Master Plan

JBA Incorporated developed campus's first comprehensive physical master plan since inception almost 30 years ago. This included facilities and site needs for all four institutions on campus (Auraria Higher Education Center, Community College of Denver, The Metropolitan State College of Denver, and University of Colorado at Denver).

A collaborative process engaging each of the four entities was necessary since all share the same campus. Each institution has a unique mission serving their own student body supported by faculty and staff hired specific to each school.

JBA's role on the project was programmer, planner, project manager and project architect.
