West Campus Housing Study

The first priority resulting from the most recent cycle of the campus Master Plan is the improvement of the west campus housing complex. The project consists of major renovations of four major buildings (450,000 square feet) and new construction to support a transformation in residential living on the main campus. New rooms, bed types, social spaces, and dining considerations support an improved learning living environment. The $20M plus plan has been phased to support ongoing use of current facilities and assure there is no loss of income or bed space during the improvements

JBA's role on the project was programmer, planner, project manager and project architect.
