

Joseph E. Bilotta, JBA Incorporated

Joe is President and CEO of JBA Incorporated, Fort Collins, Colorado. His firm provides planning and facilities management services to institutions of higher education. The company focuses on Master Planning, Long Range Planning, Programming, Space Planning, Facilities Management, Process Development, and Policies and Procedures for Colleges and Universities. JBA Incorporated has recently expanded its services nationally, bringing an in-house, program driven approach, toward problem solving for campus facilities.

Joe's background includes 15 years experience as a Facilities Director and Campus Architect at two major Universities. He earned his Bachelor's and Master's degree in Architecture from the University of Illinois and has completed extended studies in the Graduate School of Design at Harvard University. He recently earned the Distinguished Service Award from the Association of University Architects and is actively involved in a variety of Higher Education organizations. His resume includes over 200 Master Plans, Long Range Plans, Program Plans, and Space Plans for Colleges and Universities. Joe is a registered architect in the State of Colorado and Illinois.

Joe has been teaching for the APPA Institute since 1999 and is involved in developing the APPA Book of Knowledge.

Personal interests include sports, travelling, and coin collecting. His wife Michelle is a teacher and sons Chris (17) and Brendan (14) are avid hockey players and golfers.